

3 Ways To Make Your Towels Soft and Shining

You want to keep your Håndklæde fluffy and glossy. This guide is for you. We will cover two types of concerns or you can say questions that keep hovering into the minds of people. One, they have their Håndklæde and now they want to maintain or improve the quality of their Håndklæde. Second, the type of people who want to get a new one but they don't know what to check while ordering a new Håndklæde.

As for the second type, there are some important things which you should check before buying a new Håndklæde. The first thing is the fabric of the Håndklæde, it must have good absorbent features. Like, pure cotton, cotton with a blend of polyester, lyocell, linen and synthetic microfibers. A luxury Håndklæde must provide a cozy texture with good absorbency and durability. The weight of the Håndklæde should facilitate the feelings of ultimate cozy texture. A Håndklæde with high-quality cotton and weight not less than 600gsm can help you to give utmost comfort with long durability.

Now, you have your desired Håndklæde. It's time to give you the information about how to keep your high-quality cotton Håndklæde soft and shining. Because no matter what the quality is and how expensive is your Håndklæde. If you don't give them the due attention and care they will get sticky, rough and hard.

Have Patience:

The shirt which you wear today. Is it as soft as the day when you first bought it? Think first and then answer the question, most of the time the answer is a big 'No'. This is how natural fibres work. Most of the time the new Håndklæde are soaked in silicon to give them an extra glossy look. And, we all know that silicon is a water repellent. You may feel that you have made a wrong decision.

Have some patience and use them after washing them properly. And, after some more cleansing practices with due care and following our tips. They will surely soften and give you a more glossy look.

Washing Techniques:

Treat Håndklæde separately with another laundry in the queue. Make an extra pile for your clothes. New Håndklæde must be separated from the old ones because they can transfer their colours. Use warm water to wash your Håndklæde because warm water can soak more soap and can help to rid the extra soapy residue from the Håndklæde. Don't use extra detergent because the soapy residue can stick on the surface of the Håndklæde and make them less absorbent and rough.

For extra fluffiness and glitter, you may add a cup or half of baking soda or vinegar. We would recommend you avoid the use of picayune fabric shiners available in the market.

Drying Methods:

Maintain the temperature of the dryer similar to your body temperature because it can help to wash the soapy residue out from the Håndklæde. After a hefty day of laundry. Shake your Håndklæde well before leaving them to dry. And, dry them in the open air because this will help to keep them fresh and perfumed.
